SMITHS FALLS

Golf & Country Club

History of the Smiths Falls Golf & Country Club

The game of golf has been an important part of the recreational scene in Smiths Falls area for many years. After several attempts in the early 1900's and in 1928 to establish a golf course for the community it wasn't until 1952 that the beginning of the present golf course began to take shape.

A Board of Directors, chosen from a group of several interested citizens, purchased the old Balfe farm and established the Smiths Falls Golf and Country Club on its present site in the Township of South Elmsley.

Following the purchase of approximately 100 acres of gently sloped farmland and with the meandering Otter Creek flowing through the property, the Club Executives hired golf professional Dick Green of Kingston's Cataraqui Golf Club to design a 9 hole golf course.

Since the Club opened in 1954 several changes have taken place. The original number 3 hole underwent the first of several changes to make it more challenging. Two additional tees were added to holes 1 and 2 to change the complexion of the 'back nine'. A complete watering system was installed around 1960 and was replaced in the 1980's. Porches and a banquet hall were added to the original farm house a few years after the opening of the course.

In 1982, a group of members approached the Board of Directors with the idea of building another 9 holes. The Club Executive permission to a newly formed '18 hole Committee' to undertake a feasibility study and to begin trying to raise funds for the construction of the new 9 holes. After proving the project could be successful it was recommended that Montreal based Golf Course Architect Graham Cooke be hired to design the additional 9 holes.

The new design required the purchase of more than 30 acres of additional land from adjacent Willoughby farm, the elimination of old number 6 hole and the construction of ten new golf holes. After three years and a tremendous amount of work by the '18 Hole Committee' the Board of Directors voted to begin construction in the spring of 1988.

Since that time, several more changes have taken place around the Smiths Falls Golf and Country Club. A new golf shop was built in 1990. Under the supervision of veteran Greens superintendent and Golf Professional, Tom McPhee, many improvements to the golf course such as better drainage, new sand bunkers, improved cart paths and the reconstructing of No. 7 greens. In the winter of 1999 the old farmhouse and porches were replaced by a beautiful new addition which houses a new lounge, a spacious dining room, new upstairs washroom, a new kitchen and additional storage space.

The efforts of the many Board of Directors, shareholders, members and employees of the Smiths Falls Golf and Country Club over the last half of the 20th century have resulted in the realization of a beautiful golf course and clubhouse which will be enjoyed by members and people in the community for many years to come.
